LIBRARY LIVE

MARION COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY SYSTEM MONTHLY NEWSLETTER

Saturday, April 22 | 10:00 a.m.—2:00 p.m.

The Marion County Master Gardener Association and the Marion County Public Library invite the public to join us in celebrating the unveiling of "The Seed Vault," the brand new community seed library. The event will be located in the alleyway beside the Marion County Public Library. Experienced gardeners will be available to answer questions about starting a new garden this spring or help you with issues you've had in the past. There will be a seed swap and seed donation table if you have seeds you have saved from previous years. Children activities will be available along with snacks, raffles, and more to celebrate the arrival of Spring and gardening season!

In the case of rain, the event will be moved into the bottom level of the Marion County Public Library.

All gardeners know the innumerable benefits that gardening brings to people and their communities, and this is a month where we can spread that message to those who aren't directly involved. All around the country, educational activities, public events, government proclamations, local plant sales and swaps, and garden center seminars, are all occurring this month, building excitement and increasing participation in gardening.

The bottom line is it's not how you garden that matters. Large or small, organic or conventional, filled with heirloom varieties or the latest hybrids matters not. The important thing is to garden. If you are an avid gardening, relish the growing season ahead. Gardening adds years to your life and life to your years. If you don't garden, you might want to heed the advice of an ancient Chinese proverb that states "Life begins the day you start a garden." There is no better time than National Gardening Month to begin!

Get your garden started by joining us for our Seed Vault Unveiling at the Fairmont branch this month on Saturday, April 22 from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. We hope to see you there!
