NATIONAL FAMILY LITERACY MONTH

National Family Literacy Month is an annual designation observed in November. This month, get the whole family snuggled up on the couch and open up a good book. Studies show that reading aloud with mom or dad is the most important activity when it comes to preparing children to read on their own. And if you raise a good reader, pretty much anything is possible! Reading helps with vocabulary, writing skills, attention span, memory, and teaches us about other times and places. Even if your child is just a baby, you should still sit down and read with them every once in a while. An infant can look at pictures and listen to your voice as you read stories to them, and believe it or not, studies show that that alone can have a profound effect on your child when it comes to learning later on in life. Grab a few books, gather the fam, snuggle up, and let a book take you all to another place together.

Featured WV Author: Henry A. Davis

Join Henry A. Davis for a short reading of his book Gambling with Your Soul on Monday, November 8 at 6:00 p.m. The reading will be followed by a Q&A and a book signing.

If you've ever wondered "What will happen to me when I die?" this book is for you. I first considered the question at eight years of age staring down the barrel of a thirty-eight-caliber revolver under a white-knuckled death grip in my father's hand--the same gun used on him by my older brother years earlier. Drawing on religion, science, philosophy, mathematics, near-death experiences (NDE), out-of-body experiences (OBE), spirit encounters, hundreds of interviews across the globe, and good old-fashioned common sense, Gambling With Your Soul tackles the controversial topic of life after death by standing on two fundamental truths. First, everyone is going to die. Second, no one knows what will happen to them after they die.

Henry Arnold Davis is the senior quality manager with Aurora Flight Sciences Corporation in Bridgeport, West Virginia, a subsidiary of the Boeing Company. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering from Yale University and a Master of Business Administration degree from the Stanford Graduate School of Business. Henry lives in Bridgeport, West Virginia, and Chandler, Arizona, with his wife of twenty years, Tanya. Combined, they have five children and nine grandchildren.

Synopsis: "Before John Glenn orbited the earth, or Neil Armstrong walked on the moon, a group of dedicated female mathematicians known as "human computers" used pencils, slide rules and adding machines to calculate the numbers that would launch rockets, and astronauts, into space. Among these problem-solvers were a group of exceptionally talented African American women, some of the brightest minds of their generation. Originally relegated to teaching math in the South's segregated public schools, they were called into service during the labor shortages of World War II, when America's aeronautics industry was in dire need of anyone who had the right stuff".-Thriftbooks
