Beyond the Book Club: Storming Heaven by Denise Giardina (Adult)

Start off the new year exploring West Virginia's complicated history with the coal mining industry. This 1988 novel has become a touch stone of Appalachian Literature and the topic is worthy of study as we mark the 100th anniversary of pivotal events in the labor movement struggle, such as the Battle of Blair Mountain. Join us for our discussion meeting Monday, January 24 at 5:30 p.m. Sign up at mcpls.org/events.

Annadel, West Virginia, was a small town rich in coal, farms, and close-knit families, all destroyed when the coal company came in. It stole everything it hadn't bothered to buy--land deeds, private homes, and ultimately, the souls of its men and women. Four people tell this powerful, deeply moving tale: Activist Mayor C.J. Marcum. Fierce, loveless union man Rondal Lloyd. Gutsy nurse Carrie Bishop, who loved Rondal. And lonely, Sicilian immigrant Rose Angelelli, who lost four sons to the deadly mines. They all bear witness to nearly forgotten events of history, culminating in the final, tragic Battle of Blair Mountain--when the United States Army greeted 10,000 unemployed pro-union miners with airplanes, bombs, and poison gas. It was the first crucial battle of a war that has yet to be won.

Multiple copies of the text are available in our physical collection. An eAudiobook version is available on Hoopla, and an eBook version is available on Libby.

This event is linked to Beyond the Book Club Presentation about the Mine Wars in West Virginia scheduled on January 31 at 5:30 p.m. WVU Professor William Hal Gorby will explain what led to the Mine Wars and document the key moments that occurred from Paint Creek to Cabin Creek, Matewan, Blair Mountain, and even more local events in the Fairmont region in the 1920's.

Beyond the Book Presents: The West Virginia Mine Wars (Adult)

In the early 20th century, miners across the Mountain State began organizing a series of strikes and organizing campaigns known as the "Mine Wars" in an attempt to unionize and bring better conditions to the mining towns, primarily in the southern-most counties of West Virginia. WVU Professor William Hal Gorby will explain what led to the Mine Wars and document the key moments that occurred from Paint Creek to Cabin Creek, Matewan, Blair Mountain, and even more local events in the Fairmont region in the 1920's.

Join us Monday, January 31 at 5:30 p.m. for a fascinating exploration of local and state history of the Mine Wars. Sign up at mcpls.org/events.

This event is linked to Beyond the Book Club discussion of Storming Heaven by Denise Giardina on Monday, January 24 at 5:30 p.m.

Marie-Laure lives with her father in Paris near the Museum of Natural History, where he works as the master of its thousands of locks. When she is six, Marie-Laure goes blind and her father builds a perfect miniature of their neighborhood so she can memorize it by touch and navigate her way home. When she is 12, the Nazis occupy Paris and father and daughter flee to the walled citadel of Saint-Malo, where Marie-Laure's reclusive great-uncle lives in a tall house by the sea. With them they carry what might be the museum's most valuable and dangerous jewel.--Amazon
